The Labour Government made massive payments to the media provided that they promoted the corrupted version of the Treaty that the Labour Caucus embraced. This gave rise to the development of many privately funded groups which used the internet to correct much of the misleading information. Use the internet to find out about them and consider supporting them. These include: The Taxpayers Union, Hobsons Pledge, Free Speech Union, Democracy Action, Tax Justice Aotearoa, The Common Room, The Spinoff, The Platform, The Bulletin, Reality Check Radio and many others.

The Coalition Agreements give a very good idea of the massive number of changes which had been made in progressing to a tribal society.

Finding the National/Act Coalition Agreement is a little odd. But the agreement itself gets into considerable detail about the changes and additions to be made. Copy and paste or type the following into your browser https://www.nzdoctor.co.nz/sites/default/files/2023-11/National_ACT_Agreement.pdf
